Course Load: exchange students are expected to select min. 2 up to max. 5 courses per semester.

The Università Bocconi credit system is ECTS equivalent: 1 Bocconi credit corresponds to a 25-hour workload (of which 8 lecture hours). The average workload for exchange students is 4 courses per semester and classes run approximately 11 weeks per semester.

Exchange students may decide to substitute one Bocconi course with a research project under the mentorship of a Bocconi faculty member.

Course Selection: carried out by students online. Exchange students can choose from a wide range of courses offered in English (around 150) each semester. The complete educational offer (in English and Italian) is available at: www.ir.unibocconi.eu/coe

Basic course descriptions can be accessed by clicking on the course title or at: www.unibocconi.eu/courses

Course Restrictions: undergraduate students can select courses at the undergraduate level only (codes 30xxx and some 50xxx), while graduate students can select courses both at the undergraduate and graduate level (codes 20xxx and 50xxx)

Class attendance: as a general rule, class attendance is not mandatory. Students are encouraged to discuss attendance requirements with lecturers, since exam rules for attending vs. non-attending students may change.

Exams: exams must be taken during official examination sessions and may only be taken at Bocconi. Students need to officially register for exams on official dates in order to allow the grade registration. The exam format may vary: even though exams are usually written, some courses may have an oral exam; the format might also include assignments and midterm exams. Since each course may be different, we suggest that students carefully read the final detailed syllabus of the course, usually made available at the beginning of the semester and always discuss those details with the lecturer.

Grading: grading is essentially based on the result of the final exam. In some courses, the final grade might be the result of different elements such as group work, assignments, essays and class participation. Students should always clarify with the lecturer the exam rules as well as the weight of class discussions and assignments (e.g. group work) on the final grade.

Transcripts: an electronic pdf file is emailed directly to the International Office of partner universities at the end of each semester. Hard copies can be mailed upon request. For further information: www.ir.unibocconi.eu/exchangetranscript

PLAN YOUR STAY

Expected Arrival Date: students should be present on Bocconi campus in time for the Orientation Meeting or - at the latest - before classes begin. Students attending the Italian Language Crash Course should reach Milan by the starting date of the course, since attendance is mandatory.

Visa: non-EU students should apply for a multiple entry study visa at the Italian Consulate in their home country as early as possible. They must apply for and obtain their visa prior to their arrival in Italy. We suggest that students begin their visa application process well in advance since it could take some time to obtain. Please refer to: www.esteri.it/visti/index_eng.asp

Health Insurance: Università Bocconi does not require international students to have health insurance to complete enrollment in the exchange program. Nevertheless, all non-EU students must have health insurance coverage with international validity while studying in Italy in order to be approved for the permit of stay. EU students are required to have the European Health Insurance Card (if in force) or a similar private insurance policy with international validity to benefit from health service coverage.
